Half an bour later Miss Rich, daughter of Charles Rich, living at 1614 Emmett street, was aroused by a strong draft of air coming into her bedroom. Partly awake, she coughed a couple of times and then got out of bed. As she did so she heard a scampering of feet on the sidewalks below and, going to her bedroom window, found it open. Burglars had also been in the room. In effecting an entrance to this house the men had evidently used a ladder of some descripas there were marks left on the window ledge.

REORGANIZING PEOPLE'S PARTY. Many Prominent Leaders Gather at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS Jac. 11.-Populists of national renown are assembling here to take part in the conference tomorrow of the people's party national committee and the national reorganization committee. The purpose of the conference, as outlined by prominent leaders already here, is to come to some understanding as to the future policy of the party, decide on a place to hold the next national convention and call a nominating convention.

Among the more prominent arrivals of to day ere Hon. Milton Parke, chairmon of the reorganization committee, and Colonel Henry Tracy of Dallas, Tex.; Dr. B. Henry Tracy of Dallas, Tex.; Dr. 'B. Crowe of Alabama, treasurer of the amittee; W. S. Morgan of Arkacies secretary; J. H. Ferriss, Joliet, Ill.; Hon. Waarton Parker of Philadelphia, editor of the American; A. H. Livingston of West Philas, Mo.; Goneral Frank Burkett of Mississippi, General W. L. Peake of Georgia, J. E. McBride and John Zebel of Michigan and C. B. Weeks of Iowa. Other members of the two committees are expected here tonight and among them will be a goodly representation of the national committee who have shown a favouble feeling for the conference, according to letters received by Chairman Parke. M. P. Stann of Albuquerque N. M.; A. P. Tugwell of Tacoma, Wash., and L. W. Smith and L. C. Patemen of Maine have sent proxies. Among others who have signified their intention of coming here are most of the members of the national committee, including Mr. Weshburn of Boston.

Chairman Milton Parke of Dallas on the organization committee, which was appointed at the convention of the middle-of-the-road populiete held last year in Memphis, was asked what was the purpose of the conference called to meet here tomorrow.

The Memphis conference was called for the purpose of expressing the dissatisfaction of the middle-of-the-roaders with the non action of the national committee in matter pertaining to the party's policy. As a result of the meeting the national organization committee was appointed to do work that the national committee failed to do. The conference called for tomorrow will meet for the purpose of bringing the members of th two committees together and ascertaining what should be done for the good of the party before the campaign and election of 1900, and who should do it. We wish to lating to the calling of a national nominat ing convention and as to the policy to b followed at coming elections. None of the middle-of-the-roaders favor fusion with the democrats and I am pretty certain that populists everywhere will have nothing to do with fusion. The conference, which will probably last two days, will be behind closed doors and nothing will be given out until

APPEAL FOR RIVER IMPROVEMENT. Request for Appropriation to Deeper Channel of the Mississippi.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 .- The house rivers and harbors committee gave a hearing today on the project of deepening and widening of the channel of the Mississippi from the gulf to New Orleans. The object is the furtherance of commercial, wilroad and steamboat interests of the cities along the Mississippi, especially the heavy grain export traffic arge delegation was present from New Orleans, headed by Mayor Flower and ex-Secretary of the Interior David R. Francis was among those who represented the interests of other points. Captain J. W. Bryant of New Orleans, spokesman of the delegation. complained of the parrow, crooked channel now use!, which prevented many vessels from carrying full cargoes, and cited not infrequent cases of grounding of the vessels traveling this channel. M. J. Sanderson of New Orleans called for action in deepening the entrance of the Mississippi, not as a local measure, but in the interest of the commerce of the Mississippi and its tribu-taries. It was argued that with the opening of the southwest pass, as contemplated by Eads many years ago, and with the deepening of the south pass from its present in adequate twenty-six feet to from thirty-two to forty feet and about 200 feet in width the money expended would be returned a hundred fold to the people of that section. The hearing will be continued tomorrow.

BUTTE BANKER MURDERED

Patrick A. Largey Instantly Killed by Thomas J. Riley.

CRIME COMMITTED IN THE BANK BUILDING

Assailant is Promptly Arrested and Hurried Away to the Penitentiary to Avoid Lynching.

BUTTE, Mont., Jan. 11.-Patrick Largey, president of the State Savings bank, and one of the best known citizens of Butte, was shot and killed in the bank building this afternoon by Thomas J. Riley. Riley entered the bank five or ten minutes and here they were quite successful. Profit-ing by their fallures, the men took no risks this time. Sponges saturated with chloro-form were introduced into the rooms occu-pled by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Troxell occupants in ordinary tones and there was nothing to of the house, also in the room of a serving indicate that their talk was otherwise than woman and in one of the rooms occupied by friendly. friendly.

Suddenly Riley drew a gun and shot struck the latter in the left arm and shattered the bone. Largey stooped down, and partly, and as he did so Riley fired a second shot. The bullet struck Largey squarely in the forehead and he fell on the floor dead. The murderer started for the front door on Park street, and as he passed the teller's window he took a shot at those behind the railing. The builet narrowly missed Frank Holmes, one of the clerks, dug a hole in his desk, and went through one of the windows on the Main streets side of the building. Riley then rushed out of the Park street door, thrusting his pistol into his pocket as he did so.

William Huselton, a customer of the bank, was outside the railing when the shooting occurred. He made a rush for the man, but was deterred by the sight of the weapon and did not grab him. He followed Riley out. The murderer hurried west on Park street, followed by Huselton, who kept calling out o arrest the man. Officers, attracted by he shooting, did so, and he was taken to argey refused to aid him, It is well known that the banker had frequently helped him. He secured employment for him a number of times, but Riley was unable to hold a position any length of time. Besides, Largey occossicially supplied him with money.

It is ascerted that the killing was the result of a conspiracy, or an understanding, to kill more than one man who had managerial proprietary interests in the two wareouses that were the scenes of the explosions These warehouses belonged to the Butte Hardwore company, of which Largey was manager, and the Kenyon-Connell company, of which W. R. Kenyon was the head. Sults for damages eggregating $250,000 vere brought and several verdicts were secured, but the explosions and subsequent

OLD STEAMBOAT COMPANY ASSIGNS.

Cleating Palaces and Now Has Only Three,

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11.-The Anchor line, perating a line of steamships between St. Louis and southern ports, has just made an assignment. The assets are given at $98,000, but no statement as to the liabilities in made. This city Lothe company's headquarters.
Fig. Anchor line was organized the year after the war and it was one of the first combinations started in the west. Prior to that time there were short steamboat lit running between St. Louis and Cairo, Cairo and Memphis, Memphis and Vicksburg. Vicksburg and Natchez and Natchez and New Orleans. These short lines were all taken into the Anchor Line company. The small boats unsuitable for the trade were condemned, laid up or soll and new boats were built.

Two lines were started, one between St Louis and Memphis and the other between Memphis and New Orleans. At the various towns along the Mississippi river freight elevators were built and the controlling in-terest in these elevators was held by the Anchor line or people interested in it. Between 1866 and 1880 the Anchor line practically controlled the traffic on the waterway between St. Louis and Memphis and

About 1880 the Mississippi Valley Trans portation company of St Louis was organ-ized. This line, with its powerful stery wheel tow boats and its grain barges, cut into the Anchor line's business. The barges and tow boats could be operated cheaper than the Anchor line's floating palaces. Rail-roads were built on each side of the Maeissippi and the passenger travel went from the boats to the railroads. Secretary Forbes Zeigler said today: "The vast amount of liabilities has not been de termined, but there is no doubt the asset will cover them finally. Hard luck has pursued us for two years. Disaster followed disceter, until we were temporarily forced to the wall. When the present Anchor line company was organized there were seven boats, the finest on the river, with an aver ago valuation of $50,000. There are only three boats left now. The best of our flee have been lost or burned."

Australian Gold Coming

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.-The steams dameda, from Australia, due January 13 carries in its strong box nearly 200,500 golden carries in its strong box nearly 200,500 golden sovereigns, equal to almost $1,600,600, consigned to the Angio-California bank of this city. The remittance, added to previous ones, makes the total gold raceived during the present season from the same source $12,500,000, a much larger amount than has ever come from Australia as a balance of trade in California's favor during the same period of time.

Frust Company Wants the Property. PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 11,-The Merchants' Loan and Trust company of Chicago has filed new complaints against the Arizona Improvement and Canal company asking foreclosure in the usual manner upon the property to secure mortgage debts amounting to $1,400,000. The new sults are understood to be for the purpose of dismissing the receivership and for securing possession of the valuable canal property according to the code of procedure. THREE SHORT ROMANCES

Proof of the Susceptibility of Age to Cupid's Darts. When a sultable time shall have elapsed after the death of his second wife, which occurred last March, Hiram Burt, of Clear Lake, Ia., will be reunited in marriage to his first wife, Mrs. Minnie L. Knowles of Roohester, N. Y. Mr. Burt is at present in Rochester, and when he leaves for the west he will be accompanied by the woman he ed to the altar forty-five years ago.

The story of their early love, marriage and separation during the civil war, while both were doing duty for the love of country, one in the ranks, the other in the hospitals, the years that followed, during which each believed the other dead, is only another one of those truthful tales that are stranger than fiction. Mr. Burt is a fine-appearing man of 65, and Mrs. Knowles is a bright licity to their matrimonial affair, but after some persuasion they told their story to a correspondent of the St. Louis Globe Dem

In the village of Hague, on the shores of picturesque Lake George, in the northern the ears of part of New York state, Minnie Kinney and aunounced. Hiram Burt were born and passed the early years of their lives. They were children of well-to-do farmers. They were near neigh-bors, and the boy and girl played together through the window at Largey. The bullet in summer and went to school together in As they grew older this friendship ripened into a warmer affection, and tered the bone. Largey stooped down, and they were looked upon by their friends as had he continued in that position he might an engaged couple. At this time the heads have escaped with his life, as he was pro-tected by the counter. However, he rose ship of some land, and a long lawsuit followed. From firm friends the twain became bitter enemies, and the young lovers were forbidden to see each other. Love only laughed, however, and one day in the sun mer of 1852, young Burt and his sweetheart rowed across the lake to the village of Ben son, in Vermont, and were made man and wife. There they resided. The home life was a happy one. Children came to them, and the present was so bright that the clouds of the future were invisible. Then came the civil war. Hiram responded to the call for volunteers, crossed to his native state and at Plattsburg enlisted as a private in company E, One Hundred and Eighteenth New York infan-try. Then President Lincoln issued a call for nurses and, after providing for her children Mrs. Burt went to Washington and enlisted in the hospital corps.

For a time husband and wife were gether in Norfolk, Va., but the vicissitude war finally bore them apart, and from July, 1864, until January, 1882, each believed other dead. On the 12th of January, i the latter year, Hiram Burt learned that his wife was living and he immediately her a letter, and explanations were made by both parties. Mrs. Burt had heard that her husband had been killed at Gettysburg and after two years of waiting she had married Isaac C. Knowles, a surgeon in the regular army. In order that there should be no complications in the future, a legal separacourse at the Montana Central railroad yards and has since worn a cork leg. Largey was in 1875 Dr. Knowles and his wife and their warehouse exploded and cost the lost of sided until 1891. In that year Dr. Knowle children came to this city, where they re died.

At the close of the war Hiram Burt re ceived an honorable discharge and sough about for his wife and children. He returned to his former home in Benson, Vt. and to the village of Hague, on Lake George but could find no trace of them. Then he went to Cassville, Grant county, Wis., where he met Mrs. Margaret Riggs, a widow, with two children. He believed his wife dead cured a legal separation from his first wife f living, and in 1866 Margaret Riggs and Hiram Burt were married and they lived happily together until last March, when the second Mrs. Burt died. It was while in correspondence with his daughter that Mr. Burt learned of the existence of his first wife and, after death had removed all barriers to a second heneymoon, he came east on his unusual errand. They will be married in June

To Clean Solled Gloves. A young woman recently entered a drug store and called for this mixture: One quart of deodorized benzine, one drachm of sulphuric ether, one drachm of chloroform, two drachms of alcohol and just ecough cologne to make it smell pleasant. When the order had been filled and the fair purchrser had departed, the clerk turned to a reporter and remarked: "Do you know what that woman wanted the crescription for? No; well, she is simply going to wash some solied gloves in it. The preparation is one of the cheap-est and best for cleaning kid that I know of. Pour a little of the mixture into a clean bowl and wash the gloves in it just as you would wash anything with soap and water. When the soiled spots or dirt is about removed, rinse the gloves in some clean fluid. Usually, one rinaing is sufficient. but if the gloves are very much solled rinse second time. If the gloves are of a cheap and it is best to dry them on the hand, but a fine glove, after having been rubbed with a soft cloth to smooth out the wrinkles, may be hung on a line to dry like an ordinary garment. The cheering as the votes of Mr. Griffith of Union, Menuel of Montgomery, Joyce of Guernsey, Droste, Kemper and Lane of Hamilton were cast for Hanna were tremendous. Representative Otis desired to explain his vote, but was shut off under the rules and the ballot went on with cheers in the gallery term, and it resulted the same, its announce-ment being greeted with another long and loud demonstration. On both ballots Representative Cramer was absent and there were thus only 108 votes cast. At 12:15 p. m. the house adjourned and the hall was used for a joilification meeting with the crowd einging, "Praise God, from Whom All Blessings Flow."

IN THE SENATE. The senate gallery was crowded to its lim! when at 11 o'clock the first move in the great senatorial contest was made. The report of the committee fixing the hour as to the time or taking the ballot had been adopted some time before, and this knowledge got cutside and the public crowded in. When Lieutenant Governor Jones rapped for order and an-nounced that the balloting for a United States senator was now under consideration, perfect quiet immediately reigned. The peo ple realized that the beginning of the end had come, and that within a few minutes the vote that would largely determine who would be the next United States cenator would come. Every senator was in his seat to record his action. At the side of many sat women and friends whom they had

It was just 11 o'clock when Senator Sulli van arcse to nominate Senator Hanna. Dur-ing the delivery of the address it was a some-what remarkable scene. The senators sat rfectly quiet, facing the speaker. Crowded nto the hall were hundreds of people taking p every available foot of space, and yet ot a sound could be heard, save the words the speaking senator. The vote in the senate for both the long and short term stood 19 for McKisson and 17

With the seventeen in the senate and fifty ix in the house, Hanna has just the requisite votes for his election with all present, but with the absence of Representative Cra-

A remarkable scene took place in the sen-ate chamber when the vote from the house was announced. The republican senators, ingired by the encouragement, stood in their chairs and upon the floor and shouted themelves hoarse with calls for Hanna and vic-'What's the matter with Hanna? they shouted, and the answer came back 'He's all right."

It was several minutes before the hall The senate and house both adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow. A joint resolution was adopted to meet in joint session at noon tomorrow to canvass the vote cast today for senator. McKlisson had a majority of two in the senate today and Hanna of three over all in the house. There was no election do jure, but there was a de facto election. There is nothing to prevent changes to-morrow from the votes today, but none is expected, as the canvass has been so close and When the two Muses adjourned there was a general stampfide for the Neil house to congratulate Senator Hanna on the balloting. The feeling for him became intensely strong today because of the charges of bribery that had been made by his enemies and his friends. As many believed the clarges to have been sprung for effect on the eve of the balloting, there were many who said the charges did danna more good than Mayor McKisson denies that he pledge himself last night to free silver or to stand on the Chicago platform when called into the democratic causes. The democrats and others present confirm this report and state sit Mayor McKleson cald he was a bimetallist and opposed to the policy Gage, but he would not stand for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. The oppo-pition to Hanna has evidently given up the hope this afternoon of having any changes tomorrow on the joint ballot. CHARGES OF BAD FAITH.

They assured him last night that they had eight republicans against Hanna and only showed six on the ballot, one in the senate and five in the house. Representative Gay-man, chairman of the democratic steering ommittee, said Hanna bid now enough votes recorded to elect and his election, it is not believed, can now be prevented, unless some of his supporters die, become seriously ill or are absent at the joint ballot tomer-

Charles Gerrish, the coalition chief clerk of the house, said Hanna was considered beaten up to on hour before the legislature convened this morning, when "the combine learned that Representatives Droste and Lane would not present the name of Jeptha A. Gerrard, the silver republican who has had headquarters in operation here for over two weeks. It was said that Dreste would present the name of Gerrard and Lane sec and it and that these two votes would cause a deadlock and poseibly make a compromise winner out of Gerrard. When Droste early in the roll call voted loudly for Hanna that was the signal for cheers on the republican side, as he voted before the names of Grif fith, Joyce, Lane, Manuel or any of the doubtful ones were called, and all the doubtul ones were afterwards recorded for Hanna All the republican fusionists from Cincinnati voted for Hanna except Otla.

CROWD CALLS ON HANNA. Hardly had the result of the ballot been conced before a crowd filled the corridors and cheered for Hanna. It swept through the house end out on the streets. Senator Hanna responded to the repeated calls from his frieds and in answer to their demands made a speech congratulating them on behalf of the republican party for the auspicious out-

"It is not so much a matter of personality with me," said he, "as it is a question of keeping the pleages and upholding the integrity of the party and of giving heed to the

rill of the people."

The excited growd lifted the senator from the floor and man after man embraced him, while others were shaking both hands. Finally the crowd was held back and got into line and for fully on hour the senator stood and grasped the hands and listened to the exultant congratulations of the crowd. "Thank God the right will prevail," "Preise God from whom all blessings flow," and kindred expressions filled the air in choral singing. One voter with uplifted hat shouted: "Senator, this takes a load off me as big as a freight car." The crowd's cheering continued conducted during the afternoon. The feeling of relief among the republicant was indescribable. The whole city was wild

Harry C. Mason of Cleveland, speaker o the house, tonight gave out the following:
To the Public: The principal reason why I have been opposed to Mr. Hanna is because of the fact that two years ago, when the fifty-year franchise bill was before the legislature, I was approached by a man from Claydiand, who was looking in the legislature, I was approached by a man from Cleveland who was lobbying in the interest of that bill. He offered me a bribe of $1,300 if I would vote for that measure. At my conference with Mr. Hanna last Saturday I told him that this reason would prevent me from supporting him, because I believed he knew the street railway of which he was president was behind the man who offered the bribe and that he himself who offered the bribe, and that he himself was on the ground lobbying in the interest of the bill. Governor Bushnell tonight said: "I simply desire to repeat the statement which made a day or two since that the result of the contest rests with the members of the legislature. Whoever they may elect will receive my cordial support." The governor igain refterated that he had been misrepre sented and misquoted by certain newspapers and declared that in some instance absolute maliciousness had been reached. M'KISSON IS EAGER.

Mayor McKisson of Cleveland was in conference during the evening with the oppo sition and it was declared very empha-cally by its leaders that the fight had no y any means been lost and that they would again rally their forces in the joint ballot tomorrow to a sufficient degree to win the battle the democratic members of the legislature held another conference tenight, at which Judge Ditty, a member of the fusion steering committee, reported that Kurtz had promise two more republican votes on the joint bal-lot tomorrow. Netwithstanding this report was impossible to get the three democrate who voted against McKisson today to pledge hemselves for him tomorrow. Several other emocratic members refused to attend the conference, although they were repeatedly ment for. After repeated efforts to get all of the democrats to vote with the six dissenting republicans, and a failure to do so, the conference adjourned until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The workers for the opposition against Hanna will not sleep tonight, but will put in all the time until the joint ballot is taken tomorrow at noon. Important Action Taken by American Turf Congress. LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 11,-The Board of Appeals of the American Turf congress has ecided that the case of John Branon should be referred back to the Latonia Jockey club, as Branon's alleged fraudulent work was done prior to the creation of the board.

Hippolyte Chevaller, who was mixed up in the Little Pete scandal in California, petitioned the board for reinstatement, which was refused. The case of Jockey Eddie Dorsey was not before the board. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, Racing prohibited by the rules of the turf congress has practically ceased, and

"Whereas, It is the full determination to "Whereas, It is the full determination to afford no excuse 'or immunity to those offending against said rules; be it Resolved, That all persons heretofore outlawed for participating in races on unrecognized race tracks located west of the eighty-first meridian are hereby reinstated from this date to the privileges of all tracks racing under the jurisdiction of the American Turf congress. This is not intended to can Turf congress. This is not intended to included suspended, ruled-off, or outlawed horses, and it is not intended to apply to persons suspended or ruled off by the action of members of the turf congress or by the action of any turf authority."

Cured His Catarrh,

PRESIDENT ARTHUR'S EXPERIENCE WITH CATARRH REMEDIES.

Long Search Finally Secures the Right One.

After a person has struggled for years with such a digusting malady as catarrh and exhausts the entire catagory of things remedial he is decidedly skeqtical. And when he finally meets with a remedy that cures him completely he is not backward about telling others of the fact. This explains why we see so many prominent people in the complete of the fact.

cures him completely he is not backward about telling others of the fact, This explains why we see so many prominent people's names in the newspapers testifying to the merits of whatever has been the means of restoring them to health. The following letter from President Arthur of the Statesman Printing Co., Marshall, Mich., is an illustration of this fact:

Mr. C. E. Gauss, Marshall, Mich., My Dear Sir: I commenced to take your catarrh tablets with no idea that they would do me any good. A friend told me they were effective; that they had cured him, etc., so I purchased a box as I have purchased hundreds of catarra remedies before—without much failth, My condition was frightful. My head was all stopped up and I suffered extreme misery. Droppings from the nose at night made my throat and lungs very bad and I was in constant fear of consumption, I hacked and coughed and emitted stuff to such an extent that I must have disgusted my friends.

Now it is difficult. I noticed an improvement in my condition the second day after I began taking the tablets. The first thing they did was to clear my head, Gradually my throat and lungs were relieved and to my surprise, my stomach, which has been weak from the effects of my long standing case of catarrh, commenced to improve I need say no more. Those who have an case of catarrh, commenced to impr I need say no more. Those who have old case of catarrh to deal with will unold case of catarrh to deal with will under stand the situation tooroughly, and it is for the benefit of all such that I furnish yo with this testimonial. I never gave one be fore and do not believe in proprietary med cines as a rule, but you certainly have good thing and I wish you the success yor richly deserve. Very respectfully yours.
